(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 30.—The NC-4, landed at the Mondego river, 100 miles north of Lisbon, which place the seaplane left at 5:25 A. Green with time or 1:20 this morning Washington time. Lieut Commander Albrecht in a message to the cruiser Rochester said the seaplane is "O.K." The message said: "I must await high tide and cannot make Plymouth tonight. I request destroyers to keep their stations. What is the best port to the north to land the seaplane within 300 miles." Naval officials assumed that the plane's engines were not running properly. The seaplane evidently ran into shallow water while landing or was left so by the receding tide.

EAST DIVIDE CUTS THE LEDGE ON THE MERCED CLAIM NEAR ALTO

The East Divide has cut the Merced ledge, according to a statement this morning by J. K. Turner, consulting engineer and one of the largest stockholders of the company. The ledge derives its name from the fact that it was cut on the Merced claim from the shaft which was sunk near the north end line and within easy distance of the Alto No. 1 claim of the Alto Divide group. The ledge has a strike due north and south and therefore is distinctive from the big ledge of the Tonopah Divide which has an east and west trend. On this account the finding of values in the Merced will be of great significance as a positive indication that the Gold Mountain district does not have to depend on one orebody in order to make a mine. The vein dips east. The find was made in the crosscut run from the 400-foot level at the bottom of the East Divide shaft which had been extended a distance of about 100 feet. Engineer Turner had been expecting the strike for several days as his calculations placed the ledge at approximately 80 feet from the shaft. For several days the company has been getting values and yesterday it was apparent from the drillings that the coveted ledge was in sight. The next shot fired last night brought the change and this morning after the muck was removed samples were taken. These will be run this evening.

Mr. Turner said he would be more than satisfied if he got assays of $4 or $5 as experience in the district showed that the values ran low and only grew important as the hanging wall was approached. Even then it may be necessary to drift some distance before finding up a pay.

The East Divide is controlled by Pittsburgh capital and has always been regarded favorably by engineers and geologists who have been quoted repeatedly as saying the East Divide would be the third mine in the district to get ore. When the report gained circulation bids of $5 were heard for the stock and an advance was noted in Allied which is bound to pick up the same orebody should it prove as strong as the management anticipates. The Alto Divide lies due south of the Merced. The East Divide company has been working since last November. During that time the company sunk the shaft to a depth of 100 feet and installed one of the heaviest and best equipments in the district. Air is supplied from the Alto which is owned by the same interests.

UNSEASONABLE WEATHER STOPS HOLDING MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

The weather interfered with the plans of the Woman's Relief Corps for the proper observance of Memorial Day with an extended parade and outdoor ceremony at the old cemetery where the graves containing the remains of the patriotic pioneers are resting under the grey desert. The boys and girls of the public schools assembled opposite the Bonanza office at the appointed time and proceeded by the members of the Relief Corps, marched to the Butler theater where the exercises prescribed for the day were conducted. Mrs. Margery Conners, president of the Gearysburg chapter, acted as chairman. The attendance was not as large as on former occasions owing to a misunderstanding as to where the programme would be observed.

Following the sounding of the bugle call by Roy Cross, came the reading of general orders by the chairman and an invocation by Rev. Henry L. Grafions. After the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Miss Vivian Lyons, Mrs. Jesse Simmons rendered a vocal solo and Mrs. Al. Kelliber also sang an anthem.

Alfred Boyle spoke on the meaning of Memorial day in American history and proceeded to review the part our forefathers bore in the reconstruction of the country and brought the history up to the time of the European war when the American boy in khaki entered the crusade of the twentieth century. In closing his remarks Mr. Boyle urged employers at all times to give preference in employing labor to the men who had served with the colors, concluding: "This is the only honorable and equitable method by which we, as loyal citizens, can show our genuine appreciation for the brave lads who so nobly and gloriously upheld the principles upon which our flag, country and constitution are founded, and without whose heroic efforts the awful carnage waged on the gory fields of the old world by the defenders of humanity, would have been in vain."

The ladies were disappointed in not receiving the usual donation of flowers sent from the relief corps at Sacramento. The flowers were caught on the train that should have arrived Thursday morning and the fact was not discovered until too late to send a special car for them.

After dismissal of the audience at the Butler, the ladies took automobiles and visited the old cemetery where they proceeded with the duty of marking the graves and reading the last chapter of the ritual.

SITUATION ON BORDER CALLS OUT CAVALRY TO REPEL NEW INVASION

(By Associated Press.)
EL PASO, May 30.—Neither I nor any one else would be able to hold my men, if the administration at Washington permits Carranza troops to pass through the United States to Juarez. General Villa said upon learning of the Mexican government request to bring Sonora troops through the United States.

The statement was made at Parral to an American who arrived here on one of the last trains to leave Chihuahua.

Statements of the Mexican authorities that General Garcia, with a strong force is making a sortie from Chihuahua City in the northwest to attack Villa forces in the outskirts of the city, confirmed the report that Villa is in the immediate vicinity of Chihuahua City.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 30.—Reports from the border that Mexican federal troops are mobilizing in Epitome, Sonora for shipment inland through Arizona, en route to Juarez, gave the officials here little concern. It is believed here that the mobilization began before the Mexican government could get word to the commanding officers that the state department had withheld on the present permission for troops to pass through American territory. Officials said border officials would not permit the Mexicans to cross the line without instructions from Washington.

(By Associated Press.)
JUAREZ, May 30.—General Jesus Castro, commanding the federal troops at Chihuahua City, telegraphed Colonel Esquivel that forces of Villa attacked San Andres, 45 miles southwest of Chihuahua City Tuesday and were driven off with heavy losses after 22 hours of battle.

(By Associated Press.)
NOGALES, Ariz., May 30.—Six hundred federal troops have arrived four miles south of Nogales, Sonora.

VASQUEZ GOMEZ CHOICE OF VILLA

(By Associated Press.)
JUAREZ, May 30.—A meeting of Mexican revolutionary leaders will be held tomorrow at the camp of General Carranza on the border line between the states of Nuevo Leon and Coahuila, to organize all movements under General Angeles as the chief of the division of the north of the revolution, with Francisco Villa as second in command. Representative General Felix Diaz is expected to attend. The name of Dr. Vasquez Gomez, now at San Antonio, is most commonly mentioned as the revolutionary choice for president of Mexico.

DIVIDE RAISES IN HIGH GRADE

The Tonopah Divide fourth level, 1000 feet, one 50 feet from the mine crosscut and the other near the face of the 300-foot drift have each been extended 50 feet. The average grade of ore in both raises is about 80. Higher assays are being secured in the latter as it is advanced and the samples taken yesterday gave returns of $75 for the entire top of the raise. Samples taken in the former yesterday gave returns of $90 indicating that while the raise near the face of the drift is the center of attraction owing to being driven under the "big balk" on the third level there is a little difference in the value of the ore in the two raises at the present time.

Because of the work in these two raises nothing has been done in the crosscuts on this level recently.

The station on the fifth level has not been completed.

The raise from the first level has broken through to the surface after having been in ore for 100 feet above the level, which is about 180 feet below where the raise broke through.
